Dear Exhibitor:

Ana G. Méndez University System (AGMUS) and its Student Research Development Center (SRDC), with the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation are organizing the 2011 AGMUS Research Symposium to be held on September 17-18, 2011 at the Caribe Hilton Hotel in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The AGMUS 2011 Research Symposium will present the results of the undergraduate research experiences of Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) students during the Summer of 2011 at universities and research institutions in the US, Puerto Rico, and abroad. We expect to have more than two-hundred (200) presentations in the form of scientific posters and/or oral presentations of students from several institutions in the USA and Puerto Rico.

It is our goal to have your support and participation in the exhibitor hall for this conference. We are inviting you to be part of the Exhibitor session of the conference. The cost for academic exhibitor, table 6' x 3' (fee includes one person and half page black and white ad in the Symposium proceedings) is $425. If you register on or before August 31, 2011, we have an early registration fee of $360.

To register, please visit us in the symposium webpage or contact Ms. Ivette Miranda at (787) 766-1717 Ext. 6000 or by e-mail imiranda@suagm.edu. Your participation will be acknowledged in our official abstract publication and in our URL (<http://srdc.suagm.edu>) for the Symposium, which will be distributed in federal agencies (NSF, NASA, NIH, etc.), universities, and research institutions in the USA and Puerto Rico.

Your participation will contribute to the success of this scientific conference. Thank you very much for your support.

Sincerely yours,
